More particularly, the invention relates to an electrically erasable and programmable nonvolatile semiconductor memory cell. A conventional electrically erasable and programmable nonvolatile memory cell, such as EPROM (erasable programmable read only memory), includes a double gate structure with a floating gate and a control gate. The floating gate is separated from the substrate by a thin insulating layer called "tunnel oxide" of about 100.Å and is separated from the control gate by a thin insulating layer called "interpoly dielectric" of about 150.Å. FIG. 1 shows a cross sectional view of a conventional nonvolatile memory cell. The memory cell includes a source region 2, a drain region 3, a floating gate 4, a control gate 5, and a tunnel oxide 10 and an interpoly dielectric
