It's no less repetitive than any other shooter, but this one has some interesting twists. Your ship is automatically upgraded after a certain number of kills and downgraded after receiving enough damage. You don't have bars and damage indicators. Who needs them in such a fast-paced game anyway? The rankings will likely have you playing more than one match per day to get as high as possible. The game is the very definition of a casual game, since it's also missing a story or cutscenes. A click will get you in the game and WASD+mouse is all you need to navigate and aim. Nice looking, has easy-to-learn gameplay and it's just plain fun.. I cannot stress enough how much you should avoid this game. $5.00 is about $10.00 more than this game is worth. I will admit I got a few entertaining starts from the ridiculous jump scares (they are frequent, loud and awkward), but I did not enjoy this title. Allow me to elaborate:

Cons

- Darkness - It is ridiculously dark at all times in the game. The light sources are laughable. While darkness is used in horror to stimulate the player and create a claustrophobic feeling, darkness is used in *The House to annoy you. It makes the game practically unplayable. If you are willful enough to play through it despite the darkness, you will find the most difficult obstacle is simply navigating the map. I only completed the game using a hedge-maze philosophy to walk through the house because you can only see the walls or floor if you are huddled close to them.

- Story (or lack of it) - Probably the weakest of my points because story isn't necessarily the driving factor in a horror game, but the attempted story of this game is very poor. It explains nothing major about who you are, why you are fighting the house, and most importantly why the player should care. Next to the "scares" it means virtually nothing. I am okay with a horror game lacking a story, but I am not okay with a story lacking a point.

- Honest Opinion - I love indie horror games, they are marvelous. Even when they are terrible, I can usually take something away from them because the developer(s) put so much of their heart and soul into it that it shows-or at least they were able to make a memorable experience through their efforts. This game has great potential, and could have been executed so amazingly well, but seems to have at some point fallen short. A low price tag does not make up for that. Maybe the developers are planning on revamping the game at some point, but for now they are profiting off anyone willing to buy their work that they either did not finish, or that they put up for sale when it wasn't the best they could make it.
  Pros

  - It's Cheap - You do get what you pay for with this title. I can honestly say I didn't give them a penny more than necessary. Cheap doesn't mean a game can be bad, though. It needs to at least try.

  - Jump Scare Fest - I am not the biggest fan of jump scares-I prefer to have games scare me in a way that keeps the night light on-but there are plenty of them in this game. It can make for some good moments and fun in groups. Alas, they are frequent and non-cannon which will leave you growing tired of them eventually.

  - Unique - The house you visit stays roughly the same in design but experiences other changes as you play. You can tell a lot of work went into designing its stages-much of which goes unnoticed because of how dark it is, but I digress. If the game had gone a different direction, this would be a wonderful feature, but it is still nifty as it is.
    In The End

I am not hard to please. I try to find good in everything I play. That is especially so with games I purchase. However, this game has very little positives in my experience. I beat the entire game and it felt like a chore. If I hadn't started it for a YouTube Let's Play Series I would have never finished it. I cannot recommend this game. Thank you.. Excellent Game, great fun and there are cats everywhere! Could you ask for more??!?. some racing mods too stupid and generally game is too hard, but nice fun for a while. The concept is quite cool but in reality it is one of the most boring games I've ever played in my life.

Seems like the type of game you would make if you just want to make a quick buck with minimal development effort.

Charming puzzle-platformer. Minimalist mechanics combine to give some surprisingly varied gameplay. Speed runs will teach you a lot about economy of motion.. This scans and updates your drivers. It's awesome especially since my PC shipped with Windows 8 but has 10 now. And I just did a reset on my pc, this programs helps so much.. Ok, the base game sucked until i installed the gey wolves package on it. Now that boat is out, it would be a waste of money to buy. Go for boat instead.. Really good game, doesnlt feel like a clone of Restaurant Empire either, its really unique.. I bought this game because of Cory, and of course this game is one of the creepiest game I've ever played, I recommend playing with your friends, 9/10, finally some good horror games, can't wait for the new updates!!!!. This game is a snowball fight surprise. So much fun
